CROWDER AND BAKER WILL CONFER TODAY ON BIGGER DRAWING

Regular Army and National Guard May Get Men

DATE OF DRAWING INDEFINITE

Postponed on Account of Failure By Some States to Complete Arrangements

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 6.—Machinery for the draft is not ready by any means for operation, and it will be several days before America's young men will be drawn for service.

July 7 was the day set by the provost marshal's office on which all the states were to have their arrangements made for the drawing, and as many of the states have not completed arrangements and will not have them completed for perhaps another week, the war department will not authorize the draft until all states can handle the work simultaneously.

"All information published concerning the dates of the draft is mere surmise," the provost marshal's office stated today.

General Crowder was expected to see Secretary Baker today in regard to the new plan to draft 1,000,000 men instead of the announced 600,000. The added number will be used to fill the quotas of the regular army and the national guard.

ELECTRICIAN HURT WHEN POLE BREAKS SHORT ON DRINKS

A. T. JONES PAINFULLY WOUNDED
AND HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

A. T. Jones, an electrician in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was seriously injured this morning when a telephone pole which he had climbed to stretch a wire, broke off at the ground. The pole fell across an obstruction, which is thought to have saved the man's life. He sustained a bad cut in the back of his head, and was knocked unconscious, but recovered consciousness about 30 minutes later. Dr. A. T. Grayson, who treated the wound, stated this afternoon that Mr. Jones would recover.

Mr. Jones, who is married and resides at Austinville, was being assisted by Pat Hanley, at the time of the accident, which occurred in the south part of the L. & N. yards.

Decks Cleared For Opening Gun Monday in Y. M. C. A. Campaign

Admiral Bassett's Signal For the Charge Will Send the Teams Away For a Goal of 600 Members

Everything is ready to turn loose, according to Secretary Thompson, for the big drive for new members to the local Y. M. C. A., which starts Monday morning. Two banner signs, thirty feet long by three feet wide, urging the boys to join, many street car announcements, fence placards, two thousand hand bills and other literature will be released by the workers when they start Monday morning. The big membership thermometer is white and lettered in red. It shows the figures all the way from ten to six hundred, the last named figure being the ultimate goal of this campaign.

Two Campaign Headquarters.
It has been decided for the convenience of the workers that two separate headquarters will be maintained throughout the campaign—one at the Association building, where the city workers will report each evening, and the other will be maintained by Secretary Thompson himself in the paint department of the shops.

In talking with some of the workers, their enthusiasm was manifest. Capt. Schlicher, who did such good work last

WATER SUPPLY WAS SCARCE, BUT IT IS ABUNDANT NOW.

(By Daniel Dillon.)

American Headquarters in France, July 6.—There has been a shortage of the water supply at the American camp, but this has been improved and today the Americans are enjoying an abundant supply.

Troops are being shifted in the direction of Paris from their port of debarkation, and it is expected that they will be massed before long. The health of the camp continues excellent. The men are going through the heaviest drill work of their lives.

Ott Hames makes no bones about saying that he is in this fight to win, and that if anybody gets in his way they will be run over and hurt.

Jack Coolidge is saying nothing, but it is known that he is already seven members to the good.

Chas. Hutchenson is right there with the faith, and says, "You can count on me."

Capt. Walsh, always ready with the goods, stated he would be there all the time.

Claude McMillan, always a hustler, promised his best effort, saying, "I believe we can bring home the bacon."

Mr. Bodemer has cleared the decks for action and expects every shot to be a bull's eye.

Capt. Sively is going to sink everything in sight and no quarter given, when Admiral Bassett gives the order to open fire.

EAST ST. LOUIS NEGROES ARE URGED TO "COME BACK HOME"

White Men Ready With Special Train, But Manufacturers
Oppose For Selfish Reasons

(International News Service.)
St. Louis, July 6.—Whether the 12,000 East St. Louis negro riot refugees should remain here or be deported back to the south, was a question facing officials here today.

A committee of business men from the South, headed by L. W. Vallant, of Greenville, Miss., has arrived here to charter a special train or steamboat to "take back home" negro families who migrated here under the promise of better working conditions.

Officials here are opposing this because of pressure brought to bear by manufacturers who insist negro labor is necessary for the operation of their plants. The business men of East St. Louis will take up in earnest the task of the city's regeneration at a mass meeting at 2 o'clock today.

NEGROES WILL MAKE EXIT
FROM EAST ST. LOUIS.

(International News Service.)
East St. Louis, July 6.—Rioters here evidently have gained their points. Indications are that following the holocaust and slaughter of between 40 and 75 blacks on Monday night, terror has been struck to the heart of the negro, and it is thought few will be left in East St. Louis hereafter.

PROHIBITION BILL PASSES SENATE

(International News Service.)
Washington, July 6.—The senate voted this afternoon to prohibit the importation of alcoholic beverages and the sale of whiskey in bond for beverage purposes.

The vote was fifty-four to thirty.

(International News Service.)
Washington, July 6.—Prohibition will know its fate before the senate adjourns tonight.

Out of the maze of parliamentary legerdemain in progress today, two things seemed certain:

No. 1.—That "bone dry" prohibition would be defeated.

No. 2.—That whiskey making would be stopped.

This leaves the disposition of beer and wine the only question for the senate to decide.

George N. Davidson Dies at Shelbyville

Was Father of W. V. and Hugh Davidson and Father-in-Law of Henry Hartung.

Davidson of this place, who were present at the time of his death. His son-in-law, Henry Hartung, left this morning to attend the funeral.

Mr. Davidson was 83 years of age and a Confederate veteran. He had visited relatives and friends here annually for several years, having only left here a few weeks ago.

He had an exceptionally large family, there being 14 children in all, 13 of whom are living.

STREET TAXES IN DECATUR WILL BE DELINQUENT JULY 20

COUNCIL VOTES TO THIS EFFECT
AT REGULAR MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The Decatur city council in regular session last night gave the city clerk authority to have a map drawn of Decatur for the "Blue Book," the famous tourists' guide. Those getting out the book asked for the location of the leading hotels, garages, bridges and ferries of Decatur. Full information will be furnished, as the book will advertise the city considerably, it was pointed out.

Dr. Bailey, city health officer, announced that at the suggestion of the Civic League he had examined the old Echols hotel and found that it was uninhabitable and unfit for use, therefore recommended that it be removed.

An ordinance was passed concerning the building and serving notice upon the owners to remove the same.

An ordinance introduced by Alderman John D. Wyker to declare all street taxes delinquent after July 20 and to arrest all delinquents and place them on the streets, was passed.

An effort will be made to round up all boys who for various reasons have been evading the paying of the street taxes.

Authority was given City Attorney W. W. Callahan to confer with the Southern Railway officials relative to some improvements to be made on the passenger station of Decatur.

Some traffic regulations will be taken up by the council at its next meeting.

Sec. Daniels Announces U-Boat In U. S. Waters

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 6.—A German submarine has been sighted in Hampton Roads, it was announced today. Secretary Daniels today officially reported that officers in the Atlantic fleet had advised him ships and sighted the periscope of a German submarine. Secretary Daniels wired Admiral Mayo at once to ascertain full details regarding the U-boat, and send them to Washington at once.

Asked if it was certain that the submarine was a German one, the secretary replied that his reports indicated it could be no other.

Four companies of United States regulars are on guard at Globe, Ariz., to cope with the copper strike situation, which is reported quiet. Seven companies of Illinois national guardsmen were called to Bloomington, Ill., following street car strike riots.

The trial is set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Eighty Bushels Spuds on One City Lot

The production of 80 bushels of Irish potatoes, on three-fourths of an acre is what J. F. Browne, city farmer of this place, has done. The yield was made on common land, 150 on Grant street, between Second and Fourth avenues.

Mr. Brown says he is not satisfied with the first crop, so he has planted the same plot in a second crop which he believes will be fully as successful as the first. He says there is more money in Irish potatoes than in any other crop.

EFFORT BEING MADE TO CAPTURE STRATEGIC RAILWAYS THAT BAR APPROACH TO LEMBERG, THE GALICIAN CAPITAL.

(International News Service.)
Paris, July 6.—The Germans ceased their infantry attacks along the Aisne river heights and at Verdun last night, falling back upon their artillery.

There was some infantry activity in Champagne, the war office reported today. German assaults were repulsed.

A German raid north of the Aisne river failed. Between the Aisne river and Lamette and northwest of Hill 304 on the Verdun front there were violent artillery duels.

RUSSIAN ARMIES FIGHT TO GAIN STRATEGIC ROADS

(International News Service.)
Petrograd, July 6.—The Russian army in Galicia is fighting hard to get possession of strategic lines of railways into the Brzezany-Zborow sector. There lines converge and Lemberg and their possession is necessary if the Russians are to capture the ancient capital of Galicia.

Austro-German troops have been delivering powerful attacks against the new Russian positions all along the fighting front, especially along the heights of the Zlota Lapa river. The assaults were driven home with great energy, but for the most part broke down under a hot fire from (Continued on Page Four)

VOLUNTEERS WORKING BUSILY TODAY AT THE OFFICE OF CIRCUIT CLERK JAMES L. DRAPER AT COURT HOUSE.

FOUR DUPLICATES REQUIRED

BASELESS RUMORS WENT THE ROUNDS REGARDING NUMBERS HAVING ALREADY BEEN DRAWN. IMPOSSIBLE UNDER PLAN.

The report that the numbers of those who will make up the drafted army had been selected is all "grapevine news," according to Circuit Clerk Jas. L. Draper, who is a member of the local exemption board.

"According to my instructions, the federal board is waiting until the various county boards make out numbered copies of all registration cards and send them in, before it makes any selection," said Mr. Draper. "This we are commanded to do by tonight."

The office of the circuit clerk is today the busiest place in town. Mr. Draper has a young army of boys and girls in his office who have volunteered to help out in this emergency. Among those who are helping are P. S. Dinsmore, Miss Lola Nichols, Miss Lucile Draper, William Foster and two or three more will be put to work this afternoon in an effort to get through with the required work tonight.

The provost marshal general in his instructions to Mr. Draper emphasized the fact that the whole nation will be forced to wait on the slowest county boards to send in the correctly numbered list of those registered. As the order was that this be done by July 7, the local board will have to work until midnight or beyond. There are about 3,000 registration cards for the whole county and this morning (Continued on Page Three.)

GREAT BATTLE IS PENDING BETWEEN CHINESE ARMIES

Rebels March on Pekin With Fifty Thousand Troops
Thirty Thousand Defend

(International News Service.)

Tien Tsin, China, July 6.—Fighting for possession of Pekin has opened between the imperial and republican troops, according to word received here today. Thousands of Chinese and other residents are fleeing from Pekin, fearing fighting inside the city.

(International News Service.)

Tien Tsin, July 6.—A great battle between the republican and imperial armies is imminent at Pekin. Fifty thousand republican troops are converging upon the capital from the north and south. 20,000 of them under command of Tuan Chi Jui, the former premier, are between this city and Pekin marching southward. The imperial army in Pekin under General Chang Haun, numbers only about 30,000 soldiers, but they are the picked troops and are well equipped. Gen. Chang Haun has artillery and preparations are being made to make a desperate defense of the capital.

The Manchu restoration appears to be tottering, but the military chiefs supporting it promise a stern fight before they give up. Much activity is reported from Nanking, where the southern rebels have set up a republican government.

CHINA FACTION MAY

Tokio, July 6.—Chinese republican leaders may appeal to the United States to help them overthrow the new monarchy and re-establish democracy.

A dispatch from Shanghai today quoted Dr. Sun Yat Sen, a leader of the present revolutionary movement, as follows: "The southern part of China is strong and united and will uphold the republic until the very end. We hope for Japan's aid, but failing in that will turn to the United States."

THE GOVERNMENT NEEDS AN INFORMATION BUREAU.

The newspapers of today are carrying a statement from the provost marshal general in regard to the age qualifications of men who enter the second officers' training camps. The statement says that the public seems to have received the impression that men under 31 are not eligible, and it wishes to have this corrected.

It is not surprising that the public doesn't know exactly what the government needs in the way of new officers for its new armies. There is no way that the public can find out many facts that it wants to know. It is true that there is a "Committee on Public Information," but it is not an active, practical one. It does not get down to the requirements of the occasion; it is not sufficiently well organized to clear the air of that general lack of information concerning military affairs that exists.

To cite a concrete illustration. Aident of Albany, alert, well preserved and 46 years of age, a man of experience, force and ability, has been eager to enter the officers' training camp. He desired special information regarding certain phases of the entrance requirements. He wrote to various recruiting stations, and to Washington, and the only reply that he received was a copy of the printed instructions, which are general and not specific. Then, as a last resort, he wrote to his congressman and asked for his assistance. This necessitated delay, was unsatisfactory and imposed a burden upon the congressman that he should not have been required to shoulder.

The government should have a bureau of information of sufficient size to handle all the mooted matters that the haste incident to America's entrance into the war has piled up. This bureau should be "on the job" night and day until the maze of complexities is unraveled.

THE SAD STORY OF WALLACE BRYSON, NEGRO.

The Columbia Herald, published at Columbia, Tenn., in its issue of yesterday carried the following news story:

Word has been received here that a Maury county negro by the name of Wallace Bryson, was killed in the riot which happened in East St. Louis Monday night. Bryson left here last spring for East St. Louis. He lived at McCain's and was generally thought to be a splendid negro in the section of the country in which he lived. He was 35 years old.

This is the sad story of Wallace Bryson, "thought to be a splendid negro in the section of the county in which he lived." Bryson was no "bad man," no welder of bloody razors and no flirter with the servative "bones." He must have worked hard, obeyed the law and earned an honest livelihood. He was happy and prosperous, but not contented. He listened to the siren song of labor agents and "went North" in quest of fortune—perhaps of social equality. He lived only a week after he reached the promised Eldorado. There is no evidence that he committed any crime, no hint that he joined the loafer's gang. His only offense was his color—he was black. Because of this he was shot down by white men of the North. It singed and scorched by the conflagration that consumed hundreds of black men's homes.

Had Wallace Bryson remained in Maury county, Tennessee, where the yellow legged chickens are just getting ripe and where the water melons are beginning to bloom, he would have been well alive and happy today. His "going North" should be a lesson to the other negroes of the South.

LLOYD GEORGE'S DISTINCTION.

A distinction between the German people and the German militaristic government, made originally by President Wilson, is now being made in concert by the various allied foreign offices. It was made recently by David Lloyd George, Britain's premier, when he said:

No one wishes to dictate to the German people the form of government under which they choose to live. But it is right we should say that we will enter into negotiations with a free government of Germany with a different attitude of mind and a different temper and different spirit and with less suspicion and more confidence than we should with a government whom we feel today to be dominated by the aggressive and arrogant spirit of Prussian militarism. All the allied governments will, in my judgment, be acting wisely if they draw that distinction in their general attitude toward the discussion of peace terms.

The continued making of this distinction must inevitably effect the morale of the German army. It will have a tendency to drive the German masses toward a republican form of government. If the time comes when the German people are bold enough to cast off the military yoke and to act for themselves by renouncing autocracy and world domination, peace will be but a few leagues away. The United States, at least, would not care further prosecute a war against a nation that had joined the ranks of those that love liberty and would prize a perpetual peace.

The attention of the Chicago Tribune is respectfully called to the fact that negro men were denied the right to work in East St. Louis, a town situated in the state of Illinois and much nearer to Chicago than is the state of Georgia; that these negro men, when they insisted on their rights, were shot down as they ran from their burning homes. The Tribune is further reminded that this diabolical deed was done, not by "southern barbarians," but by representatives of that advanced civilization with which the North is crowded and jammed. It would be cruel to remind the Tribune that because of this isolated instance, an entire section should be branded as murderers and incendiaries. Let the Tribune unloose the vials of its wrath upon its own civilization. "Consistency, thou art ever a jewel."

Industrial plants of East St. Louis are complaining because of the shortage of labor, due to the exodus of negroes. Of course the negroes are going, and that without the stimulus of the persuasive labor agent. The negro is going to get back South while he is wanted.

Married men subject to military service are not staying out nights any more since it was announced that they cannot claim exemption unless their better halves make affidavit of their dependency.

It is hard to become sympathetic with China. When a nation of 400,000,000 people is unable to protect itself, it is useless for the smaller powers of the world to worry.

Congress should encourage the production of a big cotton crop by letting high prices rule.

Help make the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign a success. The "Y's" a good thing.

Russia's latest reply to German peace proposals is rather convincing.

It is no longer a question of who will win the war, but of how soon.

Uncle Sam's "army of the air" promises to be a bird.

The blackberry crop is helping to win the war.

Chills and Fever Not Only Signs of Malaria

Throughout the South, the thought of chills and fever has been so constantly associated with malaria that many people think them the only sign of that disease.

But as a matter of fact, nearly everyone living in a southern climate is more or less affected with malaria, though comparatively few suffer with chills and fever.

Perhaps the most common symptom of malarial poisoning is that "all-in," listless, lifeless feeling. If you feel that way, especially at this time of the year, it will be well for you to take a few doses of Quinotone, a tonic prepared especially for the relief of malaria, and thus avoid the attack of chills and fever that might otherwise follow.

Quinotone is a pleasantly flavored vegetable preparation. It contains no arsenic or quinine sulphate, nor is it necessary for you to take calomel or blue mass with it. Yet it is more prompt in effect than many remedies containing those drugs.

Many of your neighbors have taken it. They will tell you how good it is, how pleasantly it acts. It is guaranteed to please you or your money cheerfully refunded.

You can buy Quinotone in big 50-cent packages at Dillehay Brothers or other good drug stores.

NOTE:—Readers are advised to 'persist upon genuine Quinotone—then they'll know they are getting the best remedy for their malaria or chills and fever. (Adv.)

Lamkin's Car

Swinging round, with his back against the counter, for a few minutes' refreshing interchange of ideas and information with the social circle round the glowing stove in Lem Staniford's grocery, Simeon Gaines observed, "Lonny Lamkin must ha' been doin' pretty well lately. I'd a notion he must be prosperin' buildin' him new henhouses and all, but all the same I'll admit it comes as a surprise, him buyin' him a car. There ain't no reason he shouldn't, fur's I can see, only somehow it never entered my head he would; Lonny's been so deliberate, to say the least, and automobiles so extry totherwise."

"Well," agreed Uncle Si Bonny, "Lonny's doin' well, all right, but hen houses are one thing an' automobiles another. When a henhouse is built, it's built. It don't keep bustin' pieces off itself, nor feed on gasoline at a quarter a gallon; but an automobile—well, mebbe Lonny can afford it, but I should scarcely think he was justified."

"Ump!" snorted Uncle Eli Edmonson. "Ye're puttin' it too mild, Si. Gasoline and tires and tinkin' are bad enough, but there's worse. Lonny couldn't drive a car to save his immortal soul—he's a Lamkin yet with more mechanical knack than a baby; there'll be the shuffer to pay, and if ye was profane by natur' ye might put it there'd be somebody else to pay it ain't polite to name. I don't see no reason for muddin' language; I call Lonny Lamkin an extravagant idjit!"

"Oh, well," put in Lem Staniford pacifically, "mebbe he ain't contemplatin' a shuffer, Eli. Lonny ain't so to say handy, but he might learn."

Uncle Eli snorted. "You mark my words, he'll never drive that machine. He's some kinds of an idjit, but he ain't that kind. Feller that can't drive a nail 'bout poundin' his thumb, and managed to blow himself up with his wife's gas stove, and bewitched his windmill first day, so's he had to send to Boston for a man to put it right again—He dursn't!"

"He ain't goin' to hire a shuffer, though. I heerd him say so," remarked Simeon Gaines. "I was down to the depot when they was unloadin' the car, jest now. I must say she's a good looker."

"Did Lonny drive her home?" inquired Uncle Eli skeptically.

"Nobody druv her; she's there yet," said Simeon.

"She'd better be," rejoined Uncle Eli darkly, "ef Amanda Lamkin ain't plain't to be a widder. I see ye smilin', but I know what I'm talkin' about. There's fambly genius and fambly fallin's that can't be got away from; and a Lamkin is a Lamkin. I've known 'em from gret-grandfather down, and they're capable enough at farmin', but helpless infants with machinery. I tell ye, there'll be a shuffer, or a smash-up out to the Lamkin place, or that car'll be sold within a fortnit."

There was a loud, approaching purr and a cheerful honk. Every head turned toward the door, and a glistening new motorcar swept proudly by with a woman at the steering wheel.

"Amanda Lamkin!" cried Simeon, with a big laugh. "Fooled ye there, Uncle Eli. I bet there won't be any shuffer if Amanda's on the job!"

"Didn't fool me, neither," declared Uncle Eli loftily. "Wasn't I jest tellin' ye 'bout fambly inheritances? Amanda's mother was a Totten, and Gran'ther Totten run a tugboat forty year. It's jest what might be expected."

"A Man's a Man for A' That."

He can sew and make women's hats that to buy would break any hubby's bank roll, and yet he's "a man for a' that," as Burns would say.

And he actually loves his work and regrets that his fingers are awkward in handling a needle and that his thimble doesn't fit, and yet he pronounced "perfectly grand" by the girls, according to the Spokane Chronicle.

That's R. H. Harrison. There are 24 women and Harrison taking the millinery course in the high classes in one of Spokane's high schools.

He just perches himself on top of a table and sews and sews and the women of the class—and there are several good-looking ones—sit back and admire him.

"I always thought I would like millinery work, and now I know it," said Harrison. "I plan to go into the wholesale line of millinery and want to learn the trade from the bottom up. After I finish this course I will go East and intend to enter the business."

If you need a clerk, salesman, stenographer or any kind of help, the quickest way is a Daily want ad.

THREE AMBITIOUS LITTLE GIRLS OF DECATUR.

Elizabeth Ann Morrow, Mary Josephine Daniel and Louise Gardner, ambitious to unite with the Red Cross League of Decatur, and being of an independent nature, resolved to make the fee of one dollar each. They tried the selling of buttons at a penny each, but that was such a long road, they feared the war would be well advanced ere the sum had been realized. Then a ruck party was planned. The love for this pastime brought out the number at so much per capita, and each has her dollar and has her name on the Decatur Red Cross roster.

about 650 had been properly numbered and duplicated. Four copies have to be made, one to send to Washington, one for the press, one to keep on file at the office, and one to post up at the court house.

Mr. Draper announces that he proposes to get through with Morgan county's part on time. The report that numbers had already been drawn probably came from the activity of the local board in serially numbering and arranging the cards.

There will not be a ghost's chance for anyone to change the number on his registration card after he learns the numbers that have been drawn, for there will be already four copies of his name with the proper number posted and filed at the different offices, besides being published in the press.

Return From Three Weeks Auto Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schimmel returned this morning from a three weeks' auto trip to Kentucky and Tennessee in fine health, thoroughly enjoying the outing. Said Mr. Schimmel "this morning: "I have been to Hopkinsville, Ky., Clarksville, Tenn., and other places of similar size to this city, and I tell you, this is the best of them all." On the back of the auto a sign reading: "From Dawson Springs, Ky., to Albany, Ala., the best town in the South," was read en route by the people at a distance and evidenced the patriotism of Mr. Schimmel.

Sheriff's Cow Taken Up By Police; Is Ransomed for Dollar

Albany's chief of police, W. D. Cobb, had the audacity this morning to put up Sheriff James A. Forman's cow. And the sheriff could not get his cow, either, until he paid the $1 fine for allowing cows to run astray.

The cow got out some time last night and caused Mr. Forman a lot of trouble this morning in searching for her. He ran his "tin lizzie" all over the streets of Decatur, thinking his cow would have more sense than to cross over the dead line into Albany.

At about the time he had given up the hunt and was preparing to give the Daily an ad for his lost cow, in came the news that the police had his bovine and that he must pay a dollar before he could have any more milk and butter. He paid it.

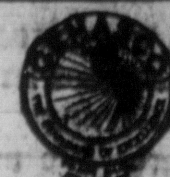

Albany Red Cross Has 242 Members

Chapter is Ready to Begin Work in Behalf of Soldier Boys.

At an enthusiastic meeting of Albany Red Cross yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. building the announcement was made that the total paid-up membership was 242 and that the local funds amounted to $330.17.

However, it was pointed out that the funds would not go far in purchasing the large amount of equipment needed. The ladies will go to work at once to purchase yards and yards of cloth out of which to make the various kinds of light clothing needed by the soldier boys.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered to S. M. Thompson and others for giving their assistance on the Fourth that helped the Red Cross clear about $60. Different individuals furnished drinks, cream, ice and roasted peanuts.

"JUST TELL THEM TO SEE ME IF THERE'S DOUBT ABOUT IT" DR. MAYS RINGS THE GOLDEN BELLS IN EL DORADO, ARK.

HICKS SAYS HE KNOWS WHAT TANLAC WILL DO AFTER 14 YEARS' SUFFERING.

"If anybody doubts the value of Tanlac, all they've got to do is to see me and I'll prove to them that every word said in praise of this medicine is the gospel truth," said E. A. Hicks, a well known merchant of Bakewell, Tenn., a few days ago.

"Yes, sir, it's made a well man of me after I had suffered torture for fourteen long years and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief," he continued, "and I know there isn't any doubt about its being the greatest medicine on earth. I tell you I was in miserable shape and ten years ago I got so bad off I had to give up my work as a mechanic and bought this store so I could get along without wearing myself out. I was told I was troubled with gastric indigestion, but whatever it was just made me life almost a burden to me. I didn't have any appetite to speak of and when I'd force myself to eat I'd vomit it all up in about half an hour afterward. Gas would form on my stomach and bloat it up 'til it was tight as a drum and press around my heart so I'd almost smother to death. My stomach felt like it had a hard lump in it and many a time for several years I'd suffer so I would have to leave my store and go to bed. I tried everything I could find, but nothing brought me any relief until I took Tanlac.

"My son had been feeling badly and I bought him a bottle of Tanlac because I had heard so much about it, and after taking a half of a bottle, he was well again, so then I decided to try the other half. Well, sir, that half a bottle gave me so much relief that I began to feel like a different man, and you bet I got some more right away. I began to eat heartily in a little while and my food didn't hurt me a bit, and by the time I'd taken three bottles I found I'd gained ten pounds. I'm now on my fifth bottle and the results have been nothing short of remarkable. It's simply made a new man out of me all over and I don't have any trouble at all. Everybody's talking about how well I look and I sure do feel fine. I never saw such a medicine in my life and I want everybody to know what I think of it."

Tanlac is sold in Albany exclusively by Prent-Dillehay Drug Co.; in Decatur by Decatur Drug Co.; in Trinity by O. E. Young Drug Co.; in Flint by C. E. Poole & Co.; in Priceville by J. E. Matthews; in Somerville by W. T. Ransom, and in Danville by B. S. Stover.

Women Spys Work For Friend Kaiser

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 6.—While investigating all the insurance company leads, the trail of spies inside high government departments and possible press leaks, the news central secret service operatives are making special efforts to find women whom they believe are connected with transmitting army and official news to Berlin. They are firmly convinced that women are the basis of the spy system.

Dr. Livingston T. Mays, pastor of the Central Baptist church, is conducting a series of meetings in El Dorado, Ark. The Evening El Doradoan speaks in complimentary terms of Dr. Mays, and says that he is having large audiences and that a number of his hearers demonstrated their intention to ring the golden bells of Christian joy throughout El Dorado.

The article follows: "Dr. Livingston T. Mays of Alabama, is here this week, and will preach each evening at the Baptist church. Dr. Mays is quite a distinguished gentleman. He was appointed by President Wilson during his first term, as consul to the Maritime provinces of Canada, which position Dr. Mays resigned in order to devote his time to the ministry. Besides this signal honor, Dr. Mays is the organizer of the Cuban-American college, as well as several Christian churches and hospitals in the South.

"Dr. Mays spoke last night on 'Golden Bells and Pomegranates.' The paraphernalia of the old time priest was adorned with pomegranates of blue, purple and scarlet, signifying that the Christian should bear the luscious and fragrant fruits of truth, loyalty and burning love. Golden bells were pendant from the priest's robe and gave forth the sound of golden testimony when he walked, typifying the fact that God's people should continually bear golden bells of testimony to Him.

"There was a good sized audience present and a number of Dr. Mays' hearers demonstrated their intention to ring the golden bells of Christian joy throughout El Dorado." Dr. Mays will return here July 10. His pulpit will be supplied Sunday.

Alabama Steel is Shipped to France

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 6.—Through the efforts of Senator Bankhead the United States Steel company has been able to move a large quantity of steel which is badly needed in the French factories.

A. R. Forsythe, secretary and manager of the company, took the matter up with Senator Bankhead, and the French ambassador interceded, and on the senator's request had the steel included in the first cargo that was carried by interned ships that sailed from Charleston.

Very Convincing. As he disliked motor cars, a country squire always kept good horses. Recently he bought a particularly handsome mare, and a few days later asked his groom what he thought of the new arrival.

"She's a fine-looking animal, sir," replied the man, "but I'm afraid she's a bit touchy."

"Why do you think so?" questioned the squire.

"She doesn't seem to take to no one, sir. She can't bear me to go into her box to groom her."

"Oh, she'll settle down in a few days," the squire reassured him. "Everything's strange to her, you know. I don't think there's much wrong with her temper."

"Nor didn't I at first, sir," replied the groom. "But, you see, she's kicked me out o' that there box twice already, and when you come to think of it that's very convincing."

Men Under 31 Are Wanted For Officers Training Camp

Applications Will Close on July Fifteenth and There are Many Vacancies

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 6.—Convinced that many desirable men are holding back their applications for the second officers' training camp because of a misconception of the requirements, Adjutant General McCain issued a statement last night making it clear that "intelligent and forceful" men are wanted, even if they are under 31 years of age and without military training.

The previous statement of the war department that it will be difficult for men within the draft age or without military experience to gain admission to the camps has resulted, officers believe, in an impression that applications from such men will not be considered. On the contrary, it is pointed out, those of demonstrated executive ability in civilian pursuits, ranging in age from 25 upward are a type earnestly desired.

General McCain's statement was given out through the public information committee with a request that the newspapers give it prominence, because success of the second camp series depends on correction of the prevailing misconception. It follows:

"The statement that mature men will be given preference for the second series of officers' training camps seems to have been misunderstood in some quarters. This preference will only apply where qualifications are equal. There is no intention to bar out applications by men under 31. In fact, examining officers have been instructed to regard the ages of 25 to 35 as the most suitable. There is also some misunderstanding about the necessity of previous military experience. The government is looking primarily for intelligent and forceful men; and military experience, though desirable, is not strictly necessary."

Applications for these camps will close on July 15.

Army officials are showing some concern over the few applications received thus far. In the New York district, for instance, where it was expected 10,000 or more applicants would present themselves, less than a thousand have applied.

SOUTHERN KILLED NO PASSENGERS

LAST YEAR'S RECORD FOR CASUALTIES WAS A PERFECT ONE.

(Special.)

Washington, July 6.—(Special.)—Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway company, announced today that out of substantially 13,000,000 passengers handled by the Southern railway for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917, not a single one was killed. The management takes the utmost satisfaction in this achievement which it has sought to attain, and nearly, but not quite, attained for several years past. It reflects not only greater human care and efficiency in operation, but the improved facilities which have been progressively installed on the Southern in recent years.

The handling of these eighteen millions of passengers required 71,745 trains, composed of the average number of passenger cars seating 72 passengers each; it means 249,780 passenger cars.

If these passenger trains stood end to end on the railroad tracks they would extend for 5,457 miles; more than six times the distance from Atlanta, Ga., to New York. If one passenger had been carried the total distance that these passengers were carried he would have gone around the world 35,993 times, and had 15,150 miles then to travel.

WILSON TO PROBE THE SPY QUESTION

GOES TO BOTTOM OF MATTER AT CABINET MEETING TODAY.

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 6.—President Wilson will get to the bottom of the German spy question this afternoon when he meets the cabinet. It is understood he will thresh out the whole problem as well as probe the Fourth of July submarine story.

Secretary Daniels and Secretary Baker are expected to lay before the president all the information they have on the reported battle between the transports and the submarines. After that the specific question of German espionage will be taken up. President Wilson will advise cool-headed methods.

THE OWL TONIC
Acts better than calomel or pills and does not gripe. Especially beneficial for colds, chills, fever, malaria, and jaundice. Five or six doses will positively stop any case of chills and if then taken as a tonic the fever will not return. Excellent as a tonic for that tired, aching feeling caused from malarial colds and grippe—troubles so common among people. Sold on its merits under a money-back guarantee by all dealers.
